There has been a lot of things showing up in the common areas that don't belong. Do not leave your unwanted belongs in the common areas. It is not the HRA's responsibility to discard your belongings.

Audio Books

The JT Library now has a few audio books to enjoy. The audio books are located on the same shelf as the Readers d Digests.

Fair Trade Books

Jordan Towers has donated many books to Fair Trade Books Store located in downtown Red Wing. With that being said, Fair Trade Books will give a discount to Jordan Towers residents that purchase books at their store. Just let them know you live at Jordan Towers.

Veggie RX

The hope is to start veggies in mid-July. Things will look a little different this year, but veggies are hopefully on the way.

Jordan Tower I Renovation Project

In June, a relocation survey was distributed to residents of Jordan Tower I to collect necessary information for staff. Following this, the processing of the relocation plans has started. Staff will need some time to review these plans thoroughly and coordinate with the contractor to verify all details. Once finalized, we will share this information with all residents.

Staff compiled Resident Packet #2 – Preparing for Construction, which was sent to residents in Jordan Tower I at the end of June. It includes the information gathered so far and initial details on what will be required.
